

Women's Housing Company is a not for profit association providing affordable housing for single women on limited incomes throughout the Sydney Metropolitan area.

We are the only gender specific housing service with a chosen target group of single women without dependent children. 60% of our tenants are aged over 55, of which, 37% are over 65.

We currently provide a range of housing solutions - from short term supported housing to programs aimed at women that are employed but unable to afford home ownership. At the moment we provide housing assistance for 613 women.

Women's Housing Company is seen as a leader in the community housing sector and is an award winning organisation, having achieved the highest level of registration status for the past three consecutive years. This status is determined by the Division of Community Housing – a business unit of Housing NSW. We have also successfully maintained full accreditation against the NSW National Community Housing Standards for the past 8 years.

Our single income target group receives the lowest income of all relevant categories, yet Women's Housing Company continues to maintain financial viability through its proactive and sensible governance.

We are governed by a Board of Directors, all of whom are experienced practitioners in their chosen field of expertise, and their diverse skill sets and business acumen helps to provide the ongoing strategic direction of the organisation.
